In this, the third Peter White mystery, Peter once again meets Costanza and Raffaella from The Library of the Soul, Simon Buck's acclaimed first novel.

ISBN 978-0-9552206-4-7

In AD33 Judas Iscariot betrayed Jesus for thirty pieces of silver. Even today those same silver coins still exert their malign influence over the weak and treacherous.

Raffaella, one of the Vatican's Guardian Angels, enlists Peter White to help her investigate a cult group who are apparently searching for the coins. Do they really believe the ancient coins have supernatural power? Why are they looking for them in a 12th century octagonal castle? Is the sudden arrival of an American TV evangelist just a coincidence? How exactly are the local mafia involved? What is the significance of the raunchy mermaid? Raffaella and Peter must race against the clock to stop impending disaster on the rapidly approaching saint's day of St. Michael.

"Peter White mysteries will intrigue you with their twists and turns, while fascinating you with high technology and state of the art techniques, and tempting you with exotic locations and enticing meals. If you're a foodie, a techno-mage, an armchair traveller, an amateur sleuth or just enjoy a good yarn, you'll love these books."
